Part I: Poem (Items 21-25)

Direction: Read the poem below and choose the best answers to the questions.

From childhood's hour I have not been
 As others were; I have not seen
 As others saw; I could not bring
 My passions from a common spring.
 From the same source I have not taken
 My sorrow; I could not awaken
 My heart to joy at the same tone;
 And all I loved, I loved alone.
 Then- in my childhood, in the dawn
 Of a most stormy life- was drawn
 From every depth of good and ill
 The mystery which binds me still:
 From the torrent, or the fountain,
 From the red cliff of the mountain,
 From the sun that round me rolled
 In its autumn tint of gold,
 From the lightning in the sky
 As it passed me flying by,
 From the thunder and the storm,
 And the cloud that took the form
 (When the rest of Heaven was blue)
 Of a demon in my view.

Part III: Joke and movie review (10 Items)

Directions: Read the following texts and choose the best answers to the questions.

Joke (Items 31-35)

Joe Bob was kind, but he wasn't very bright. His bumbling often irritated people, and so, they became impatient. His mother worried about him and went to seek the advice of a wise old woman.

"Teach him to always speak the truth and to end every conversation with a compliment." Said the wise old lady.

"And he'll become loved by his community?"

"His compliments will make him welcome everywhere he'll ever go." Replied the wise old lady.

Joe Bob's mother rushed home and began teaching Joe Bob the old lady's method. After that Joe Bob was taken into town to interact with the townsfolk. In the grocery store, Joe Bob dropped a dozen eggs.

"Did you do that on purpose?" Yelled the shop owner.

"No, but you must have a beautiful singing voice the way you hit that high note." Joe Bob replied.

Embarrassed by his angry outburst, the shopkeeper apologized. Joe Bob was so happy to be forgiven and he began using his new manners. As he grew older, he became renowned for his truthfulness and his heart warming compliments. He was eventually promoted to town crier. Any person needing to hear a difficult truth would always be comforted by his kindness. One day the loveliest girl in the community had a tragic accident. The family of the girl begged Joe Bob to be with her during her long recovery. Joe Bob found her with her head completely bound in bandages. He visited daily and lifted her spirits. The truth about her tragedy was softened by his kind compliments. Joe Bob's truthfulness kept her grounded and made her feel beautiful; and she loved him for it. After several months, Joe Bob was summoned to the girl's side. As the bandages were removed, she spoke from her heart.

"Joe Bob, I was once the loveliest girl in the community. I feared I had lost that after the accident, but your kindness has shown me the true beauty within. I love you, Joe Bob ..."

She said "Do you love me?"

He said "No, but that's a real nice ski mask."

- 4) He means that she doesn't look that bad.
- 5) He means that she looks exactly the same.

Movie Review (Items 36-40)

(1) Spider-Man: Far from Home', starring Tom Holland as our friendly neighborhood superhero aka Peter Parker, is a science fiction and action film. The film is a satisfying continuation and way forward for the Marvel Cinematic Universe (MCU). Peter Parker is still reeling after the massive showdown in 'Avengers: Endgame', which claimed the life of his mentor, Tony Stark.

(2) The story starts when our teenage superhero Peter Parker chooses to take a break from apocalyptic threats and decides to join his best friends Ned, MJ, and the rest of gang on an overseas school trip. However, Peter's plan to leave super heroics behind for a few weeks is quickly disappeared when Nick Fury (Samuel L Jackson) shows up and gives him his next big mission to uncover the mystery of several elemental creature attacks.

วิชาสามัญอังกฤษ มี.ค. 65

(3) One of the biggest tasks the film must tackle is picking up after the Marvel Cinematic Universe's (MCU) world-altering 'Endgame'. It does this by taking us into Peter's head, and the frame of mind Spider-Man is in. It makes a compelling angle; Peter is struggling with who he is – a school going teenager who really likes his classmate MJ (Zendaya), and who he is meant to become – Tony Stark's successor. The plot is mostly built around this problem, and Tom Holland brings a lot of nuance and depth to both angles. Peter's good-natured is now well-established, but Holland also makes this Spider-Man a more significant force to be reckoned with, and that's saying something.

(4) The film's plot also has to juggle between a high-school romantic comedy tonality and the guns-blazing action spectacle that audiences have come to expect from and MCU film by now. While this can get occasionally tedious – some jokes feel a little forced and could have easily been left out – it's engrossing under Jon Watts's direction. However, the praise goes to the performances, which made the character more interesting and the action set pieces are surprisingly innovative, especially in the second half of the film. As a result, 'Spider-Man: Far Home' is a lot of fun.

36. What genre is this movie?

- |                    |                |
|--------------------|----------------|
| 1) Horror          | 2) Drama       |
| 3) Fantasy         | 4) Documentary |
| 5) Science fiction |                |

37. What can be inferred from this movie review?

- 1) MJ became Peter's girlfriend.
- 2) Peter went to the school trip with his friends.
- 3) This film is a sequel in a post-Endgame world.
- 4) Peter planned to leave super heroics behind for good.
- 5) Peter was not overwhelmed with grief when his mentor died.

38. What is the reviewer's attitude about this movie?

- |               |               |
|---------------|---------------|
| 1) Positive   | 2) Negative   |
| 3) Opposed    | 4) Prejudiced |
| 5) Ambivalent |               |

39. What can be implied about Nick Fury from this movie review?

- 1) He's bossy.
- 2) He's headstrong.
- 3) He has superpowers.
- 4) He's Peter's mentor.
- 5) He doesn't care about Peter.

40. What does the word 'teenage superhero' in Paragraph 2 imply?

- 1) His age doesn't matter.
- 2) It is a lot for a teenager to handle.
- 3) Peter just wants to be a normal teenager.
- 4) Peter is struggling because he is superhero.
- 5) Although Peter has super powers, he's still a teenager.

Part IV: Editorial and News (12 items)

Directions: Read the following texts and choose the best answers to the questions.

Editorial (Items 41-47)

- (1) The province expects a tourism windfall related to Blackpink member Lalisa "Lisa" Monaban. Lalisa, named for the Buri Ram native's real name, Lalisa Manoban, is the title track of her first solo album bearing the same name. The frenetic number features countless costume changes, including one elaborate Thai-themed outfit using Phanom Rung Historical Park as a set.
- (2) Tourism officials in Buri Ram are banking on the popularity of the K-pop star – a Buri Ram native – to spur domestic visitor demand in the fourth quarter. Ratpacha Teerapattharakit, president of the Buri Ram Tourism Association, said tourism in the province has directly benefitted from Lisa's first solo music video, which features her home town's Phanom Rung Historical Park.
- (3) In addition to Thai traditional headgear – an element of the video that's already gone viral – the "standing meatballs" shops where customers have to stand to eat at Buri Ram railway station have proved popular with locals after Lisa mentioned she wanted to eat this street food when she returns home.

News (Items 48-52)

- (1) (NY TIMES) – The well-known three-arrow symbol doesn't necessarily mean that a product is actually recyclable. A new bill would limit the products allowed to feature the mark. The triangular "chasing arrows" recycling symbol is everywhere: On disposable cups. On shower curtains. On children's toys. What a lot of shoppers might not know is that any product can display the sign, even if isn't recyclable. It's false advertising, critics say, and as a result, countless tons of non-recyclable garbage are thrown in the recycling bin each year, choking the recycling system.
- (2) Late on Wednesday, California took steps toward becoming the first state to change that. A bill passed by the state's assembly would ban companies from using the arrows symbol unless they can prove the material is in fact recycled in most California communities and is used to make new products.
- (3) "It's a basic truth-in-advertising concept," said California State Senator Ben Allen, A Democrat and the bill's lead sponsor. ""We have a lot of people who are dutifully putting materials into the recycling bins that have the recycling symbols on them, thinking that they're going to be recycled, but actually, they're heading straight to the landfill," He said. The measure, which is expected to clear the State Senate later this week and be signed into law by Gov. Gavin Newsom, is part of the nascent effort across the country to fix a recycling system that has long been broken.

ชื่อ:

เบอร์โทร:

(4) Though materials like paper or metals are widely recycled, less than 10 percent of plastic consumed in the United States is recycled, according to the most recent estimates by the Environmental Protection Agency. Instead, most plastic incinerated or dumped in landfills, with the exception of some types of resins, like the kind used for bottled water or soda.

(5) However, In California, the bill won the backing of the coalition of environmental groups, local governments, waste haulers and recyclers.
